

It's time for guided reading!

Watch this clip from 'The Good Dinosaur'
Show from 1 minute 40 seconds – 1 minute 51 seconds

Where is the dinosaur?

How is he feeling?
Why?

Why do you think the screen goes black after we see the dinosaur fall?

dinosaur

• • • • • _ _ •

bluebird

• • _ _ • _ _ •

Draw a front cover of your own dinosaur story.

Can you think of a title? Don't forget to write the author's and illustrator's name!

Plan your story first. (see the next page – you don't have to plan it on that page, you could use a large piece of paper or cardboard and draw a story map instead)

Write your story during the half term then share it with us on Tapestry!

If you prefer, write a non fiction information book with pictures and facts in sentences.

One of your challenges is to write using lined paper, sitting your letters on the line with ascending and descending letters in the correct place.

Name: _____

LO: To write your own dinosaur story

_____ February

1: Draw first picture. 2. Write (scribe or copy) your story using your maps and phoneme cards. 3. Add speech bubbles and describing words. 4. Colour it in. 5. Act it out with small toys.

The beginning

Who, what and where?

The middle

What's the problem?

The end

How is it sorted?